FADS OF SPENDTHRIFTS.

One Man Who Ordered Dishes That He Could Not Eat.

When people have more money than they know what to do with they sometimes develop a remarkable ingenuity in devising methods of squandering it, as in the case of the French marquise who has her bed strewn with rare and exquisite orchids, at a cost of several thousand dollars a week.

Even more remarkable is the story told of a wealthy Frenchman who dines twice a week at a famous Parisian restaurant. His appetite is the poorest, but he always insists on having a tureen filled with a specially prepared soup placed before him. Next comes a huge joint of meat, from which he cuts one tiny slice. Then follow four quails or a large chicken, of which he eats one mouthful. His dessert consists of four grapes and a sup of coffee, while during the meal he just moistens his lips from a bottle of expensive claret and another of the finest champagne. At the conclusion of each meal, for which he pays $25, he hands $8 to the head waiter, $4 to the waiter who had attended him, $2 to the woman cashier and $1 to the porter.

A weird form of extravagance was that of a woman named Hiller, who buried her husband in a $20,000 coffin. The coffin was made of richly carved mahogany, with solid gold trimmings (a single knob costing $1,750) and lined with silk, which is said to have cost 75 cents an inch.

The nizam of Haidarabad has a set of false teeth for which he paid a Madras dentist $3,500, and Dixie W. Thompson, a wealthy rancher of Santa Barbara, Cal., spent $3,750 on a saddle, which is of the finest embossed leather, heavily and most elaborately mounted with silver. Henry G. Marshal lavished $50,000 on a grand piano, exclusively painted by Sir L. Alma-Tadema and studded with precious stones. Jan Van Beers paid $30,000 for a piano that was a miracle of painting, precious metals and jewels.—Chicago Chronicle.

He Showed Them.

"I want to know," said the attorney for the plaintiff, who was cross examining the witness, "just what the defendant said when my client told him he was a bigamist and that the facts had been found out."

"He didn't say anything," answered the witness.

"Well, what did he do?"

"He acted kind o' hasty."

"I want to know exactly how he acted."

"Want me to show you?"

"Yes."

The witness suddenly reached over, grabbed the attorney by the hair, threw him down on the floor and proceeded to hammer him.

"This is the way he acted," he said, "till the other fellows interfered. Some of you chaps pull me off, will you?"

It was tough on the lawyer, but it won the case for him.—Chicago Tribune.

An Essential to Leadership.

The professor of economics was discoursing eloquently on the need of leadership in all things, and from the greatness of the leader he plunged into a discussion of the essentials to leadership. "And what," he exclaimed, "is the great characteristic of all born leaders, the first great essential to successful leadership?"

He paused that the question and its import might be fully appreciated. "What is it?" he asked again.

A small voice coming from the rear of the room answered cheerfully:

"Ready ability to satisfactorily explain what the other fellow says about you!"—Florida Times-Union.

Another Ideal Shattered.

"The other night I was with the prettiest girl," smiled the society beau, "with the loveliest hair, I think, I ever saw in my life. I leaned over and touched a curl—a tiny little beautiful curl—at the nape of her white neck.

"'If I had that,' I sighed, 'I'd carry it always next to my heart.'

"'Why, here,' she said quickly, raising up a white hand, unpinning it and handing it to me, 'take it, then.'"—New York Press.

Happiness.

Happiness is a temperament. Some of the poor make themselves unhappy because they are not rich. Some of the rich make themselves unhappy because they are rich. The man who has work to do makes himself unhappy by imagining that he has too much work. The man who has no work to do makes himself unhappy because he has no work. The secret of happiness is to accept our lot in life and make the best of it.

NATURE AS AN ARTIST.

Some Wonderful Pictures That Have Appeared on Stone.

Pliny, a well known writer of about the time of Christ, mentions having seen an agate the lines and markings of which formed a perfect picture of Apollo and the nine muses. Pliny says that the little children recognized it on sight. In this wonderful natural picture as well as the artificial drawings Apollo was represented seated in the midst of the muses harp in hand.

Majolus, another writer of high standing, saw an agate in the collection of a jeweler at Venice which, when polished, showed a perfect picture of a shepherd with a crook in hand and cloak thrown loosely over his shoulders.

In the Church of St. John, at Pisa, Italy, there is a piece of stone heavily marked with red, blue and yellow spar, the lines representing an old man with heavy white beard, with a bell in his hand, seated beside a small stream. To the worshipers at St. John's it is known as the St. Anthony stone, the picture upon it being a perfect likeness of that saint, even to the minor details of tunic and bell.

In 1605 some quarrymen in Italy burst open a slab of marble both sides of which contained an image of St. John the Baptist covered with the skin of a camel. Everything was true to nature—a single exception, the saint having been provided with only one leg and foot. How, when or upon what pretext the Turks were allowed to gain possession of the wonderful relic the writer's authority fails to state. It only adds that the miraculous production is now in the temple of St. Sophia at Constantinople.

Directly after the great Johnstown flood D. S. Wingrove, superintendent of the marble yard at the penitentiary at Baltimore, found a slab of marble with lines and veins which made a perfect picture of the fated city of Johnstown and the surrounding country. The sky is plainly marked, as are also the hills and mountains surrounding the town. Piles upon piles of ruins are marked, with an occasional steeple or toppling wall overhanging the scene of awful destruction. Taken all in all, the scientists consider it one of the most wonderful natural formations ever found in America.

Nails.

The first nails were undoubtedly the sharp teeth of various animals. Then, it is believed, pointed fragments of flint followed. The first manufactured metal nails were of bronze. The nail with which Jael killed Sisera was a wooden tent pin, probably pointed with iron. Bronze nails have been found in the Swiss lake dwellings in several places in France and in the valley of the Nile. Until the last century iron nails were forged, a blacksmith being able to make only two or three dozen a day. The first cut nails were made by Jeremiah Wilkinson in Rhode Island in 1775. The first patented nail machine was by Perkins, 1795, and its product of 200,000 nails a day was considered so enormous that some persons deemed the result due to a supernatural agency. Many improvements in nailmaking machines, greatly increasing the quantity and quality of their output, have been made in recent times.

Didn't Bother Them.

During the campaign of 1892 Senator Vest spoke facing the grand stand on the Moberly fair grounds. The management was conducting horse races, and between the cheering of the winners and for the laboring orator things were lively. At the close of a particularly exciting heat, during which everybody howled himself hoarse, Vest mopped his brow and, turning to the tumultuous crowd about him, remarked, with mild sarcasm:

"Gentlemen, perhaps I'd better wait till the racing is over."

A big stalwart son of Missouri, who was clinging to a post and waving his hat frantically at the winning rider, happened to hear the observation. Then his generosity beamed.

"Go ahead, senator, with your little talk!" he yelled. "You ain't bothering us a bit!"

Company For Auntie.

A correspondent relates a good child story. On a visit to her aunt the child asked, "Did you ever tell a lie, auntie?" This was a poser, but honesty and self-accusation both prompted the affirmative reply. "Then do you know where you will go to when you die?" came the prompt demand. Again the answer had to be "Yes." Whereupon the child, in excess of self sacrifice, threw her arms around her aunt's neck and said, while she burst into tears at the thought: "Never mind, auntie, never mind. I shall be there."

ODOR TAINTED AIR.

It Is Not In Itself Poisonous or Even Unhealthful.

According to the American Magazine, "bad" air is not so bad. The point is explained as follows by Dr. Hirshberg of Johns Hopkins university in an article on "Popular Medical Fallacies:"

"Foul air—which has for its accepted meaning air heavy with the gases and odors of decay—is not in itself poisonous or even unhealthful. Unless it contains such a large proportion of foreign gases that it is noticeably lacking in oxygen its chief effect is psychic. Some persons, in brief, cannot abide a stench. It sets their nerves on edge and excites their imaginations, and the result is that they grow pallid and at times seasick.

"Thus indirectly it may weaken them and make them an easy prey to wandering microbes. But of itself it produces little direct harm. Medical students, breathing the unspeakable gases and odors of the dissecting room, manage to eat vast dinners and to grow fat. Tanners, garbage men, workers in fertilizer factories and other persons who are habitually surrounded by hair raising aromas are ordinarily just as healthy as other folk.

"That foul air is usually laden with rather more germs and germ bearing insects than air which seems (to the nose) to be pure is beside the point. Experience shows that pure air often contains as many of these enemies to health as the most foul exudations from a sewer outlet. The Stegomyia fasciata, which carries the germs of yellow fever, would be just as deadly on a mountain top as along the shore of a Louisiana bayou; hence the absurdity of shotgun quarantines and of all the other medicinal manifestations of alarm that appear when yellow jack rages on the gulf coast."

French Art Running Riot.

Clever dealers in artifice—that is what the majority of painters in Paris have become. For one man whose work is "of the centre" you have scores, hundreds, who are facile and sometimes even accomplished, but in the grain of their work incurably factitious. They have made no better use of the freedom from formula, won by Manet and the others, than to put more formulae, usually very hollow ones, in the foreground. Little groups are formed, each one devoted to the unfolding of a trick which some new man has made temporarily popular. They wax and wane, and you wonder why they ever flourish at all. A sensation is made at the salon not by an honest piece of painting with an original accent, but by some prismatic audacity having no relation to nature, by some purely arbitrary scheme of chiaroscuro or, as in one case that I have in mind, by a return to the "brown sauce" of the old masters.—Royal Cortissoz in Atlantic.

An Ideal Citizen.

The ideal citizen is the man who believes that all men are brothers and the nation is merely an extension of his family, to be loved, respected and cared for accordingly. Such a man attends personally to all civic duties with which he deems himself charged. Those which are within his own control he would no more trust to his inferiors than he would leave the education of his children to kitchen servants. The public demands upon his time, thought and money come upon him suddenly, and often they find him ill prepared, but he nerves himself to the inevitable, knowing that in the village, state and nation any mistake or neglect upon his part must impose a penalty sooner or later upon those whom he loves.—John Habberton.

Punctilious.

A Washington woman prominent in the official set of the national capital tells of a function to which she had invited an attache of one of the legations famous for his extreme politeness. The invitation was formally accepted, but on the morning of the appointed day she received a note, written by the diplomatist's valet and couched in the following terms:

"Senor Blank regrets much that he will not be able to attend Mrs. So-and-so's reception on the evening of the 22d inst., as he is dead."—Harper's Weekly.

Not In the Curriculum.

Mr. Jecklyns had just received from his youngest son, who was in his first year at college, a telegram to this effect: "Dear Father—I am about to take up a new study. Please send me $25 to pay for the outfit."

He answered it at once in this wise: "Dear John—What is the study?"

To the query came this rejoinder: "Dear Father—It is golf."

The Cab Horse Won.

A gentleman who was anxious to catch a train hailed a hansom, gave instructions as to his destination and jumped in, but the horse made terribly slow progress, and the "fare" was afraid that he would miss his train.

"Look here, cabby," he said, "can't you make your gee-gee go faster? I must catch the 3:15."

The cabman winked knowingly.

"Yes, sir, he can go faster," was the reply, "but it's like this: Yer see, my horse is an old racer, and the best way for you to make him go faster is for you to bet me half a crown he won't catch the 3:15. That'll put him on his mettle, and he'll fly like the wind."

The horse did it.—London Express.

Poor Judges.

Two Marseillais, who have a well deserved reputation for tall stories, were discussing the relative merits of various cheeses.

"Why," said the first, "the cheese I'm talking about is so remarkable that at the last show the judges uncovered when they came to it."

"That's nothing," retorted the second. "The kind of cheese I'm telling you about is superior in every way. It wins a medal at every show, and it walks up to the judges to eat it."—Indiscret.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry-bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, hang-on, chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is for the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

Superior Judgeships and the Game of Politics.

JUST because Appelate Judge-elect Hart of Sacramento has resigned from the Superior Judgeship of that county to make way for another man to be appointed by Governor Pardee, it is being claimed by some of our contemporaries that the other Superior Judges in the State who were also elevated at the late election to higher judicial honors, should also resign. It is asserted that by holding on to their offices until Governor-elect Gillett qualifies next Monday that they are "doing politics" for the dominating faction in the Santa Cruz convention. It is pointed out by some of our big metropolitan contemporaries, as well as a few of our more modest country exchanges, that Judge Burnett of Santa Rosa and the other Judges-elect should resign before Governor Pardee goes out of office to enable him to appoint their successors, and because they have not done so, if we except Judge Hart of Sacramento, they are accused of "standing in with the organization."

Now, there are two sides to every proposition, and this Judgeship business has its two sides also. For instance, it is just as fair to assume that Judge Hart, in resigning the minor Judgeship before qualifying for Judge of the Appelate Court, has done so as an act of hostility to the new State administration which takes up the reins of government next Monday. By resigning before Governor-elect Gillett is inducted into office, Judge Hart throws the appointment of his successor into the hands of Governor Pardee on the eve of the termination of his term of office. Now, is it not just as fair to assume that Judge Hart is "doing politics" by resigning at this time to enable the out-going Governor to appoint his successor as it would be if he waited until Governor-elect Gillett was in a position to name his successor instead of Pardee? In the game of politics that's the way it looks to us anyhow.

Presidential Third Term and Spirit of the People.

THE Roosevelt Third Term National League has been organized with headquarters in Chicago. Edward A. Horner, formerly of Colorado, a disgruntled Democrat, is the President of the League, who promulgated in an address on the 6th of last month that President Roosevelt is the people's choice irrespective of party and demands his election in 1908. Mr. Horner and his League are not only a little too previous, but he and his followers are treading on dangerous ground. There is a deep-rooted sentiment among the masses of the American people against the third term proposition, and no one realizes this more than President Roosevelt himself.

George Washington, in his farewell address to the people of his beloved country, delivered September 17, 1796, declined a third term in the following language: "The period for a new election of a citizen to administer the executive government of the United States being not far distant, and the time actually arrived when your thoughts must be employed in designating the person who is to be clothed with that important trust it appears to me proper, especially as it may conduce to a more distinct expression of the public voice, that I should now apprise you of the resolution I have formed to decline being considered among the number of those out of whom a choice is to be made. I beg you at the same time to do me the justice to be assured that this resolution has not been taken without a strict regard to all the considerations appertaining to the relation which binds a dutiful citizen to his country; and that in withdrawing the tender of service, which silence in my situation might imply, I am influenced by no diminution of zeal for your future interest, no deficiency of grateful respect for your past kindness; but am supported by a full conviction that the step is compatible with both."

From that September day, over one hundred and ten years ago, the example set by "The Father of His Country" in declining a third term has been the unwritten law of our country, and once only has there been an attempt to override it. That was in the Chicago convention in 1876, when the over-zealous partisans of that greatest of Generals of modern times, and the idol of the American people, U. S. Grant, tried to break in on this rule and secure for him the nomination for a third term. Remembering the example set by Washington in 1796, and the troublous times in the Roman Empire fifty years before the birth of Christ, General Grant and his partisans were accused of Caesarism and went down to ignominous defeat.

President Roosevelt long since publicly announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term and has been taken at his word. The temper of the American people would never permit him to win out in a third term contest.

THE utterances of the Japanese paper advocating death to our President, and other Anarchistic sentiments, should be proof enough that Japan will respect Mr. Roosevelt more through the gleam of arms and the emphasis of our military power than through the deference he would accord them. Japan will not go too far, however, for the Japanese know that the American people have back-bone and do not feel as a nation as Mr. Roosevelt does as a unit.

The Woman's Club Ball.

The annual New Year's Eve ball of the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club at Union Hall last Monday night was attended by sixty-five couples, many of whom were from the California Home at Eldridge.

The supper served by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koenig of the Union Hotel was all that could be desired by the most exacting of epicures. The floor was under the management of H. F. Bates and Will F. Clewe, who proved themselves the right young men in the right place.

A neat little sum was realized by the ladies which will be applied for public improvements when opportunity presents itself.

RAILWAY CHANGE WILL SURPRISE MANY

Southern Pacific and Santa Fe Absorb the California Northwestern.

With the advent of the New Year the long-expected has happened. The California Northwestern Railway as well as the North Shore have been absorbed by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railways and will henceforth be known as the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company. Last Monday articles of incorporation were filed in San Francisco, with the following directors: E. E. Calvin, vice-president and general manager of the Southern Pacific; William F. Herrin, head of the law department of the Southern Pacific; N. T. Smith, treasurer of the Southern Pacific, and Peter F. Duane, chief counsel of the Southern Pacific; A. H. Payson, assistant to the president of the Santa Fe; E. S Pillsbury, counsel for the Santa Fe; W. A. Bissell, assistant traffic manager of the Santa Fe, and Edward Chambers, assistant freight traffic manager of the Santa Fe. All these men have their offices in San Francisco.

A. W Foster who has been the president of the California Northwestern for fourteen years, has retired and the board of directors of the new road will elect his successor when they meet next week.

It is thought in railway circles that most of the old officials of the California Northwestern will be retained in their positions by the new board of directors, especially General Manager Agler, Passenger Agent R. X. Ryan, Chief Engineer F. K. Zook and Superintendent J. W. Hunter. Many changes, however, will be made in local station agents, conductors and brakemen.

The newly incorporated road will now rush the connection between Sherwood in Mendocino county and Eureka, Humboldt county, and it will not be long before the long-cherished dream of the people of Sonoma Valley for a transcontinental road and a better local railway service will be realized.

There is much speculation as to what effect the change will have on the two parallel roads in this valley between Schellville and Glen Ellen. There is no question about the permanency of the line between Schellville and Sonoma as it runs through the most populous part of the valley, but it would be interesting to know whether or not the strip of road between Schellville and Glen Ellen will continue to be operated. This question may not be bothering the big railway officials, but has got many of our valley people guessing as to the local outcome of this latest railway merger.

Road Funds.

County Auditor Chas. A. Pool on Saturday last completed the apportionment of the county funds now in the hands of Treasurer Glenn E. Murdock.

The money apportioned amounted to $327,969 99. This will be distributed as follows: State fund, $102,406.05; general found, $93,444 91; indigent fund, $21,414.59; school fund, $22,417.88; court house bond fund, $732 69; road fund, $57,546.46.

Out of the latter fund the Glen Ellen road district receives $1405.35; Agna Caliente, $1654.72; San Luis, $3265.98; Lakeville, $2872.27.

A Pastor's Greeting

Rev. Chas. C. Cragin, pastor of the Congregational Church of this place, has sent out a New Year's greeting to the friends and patrons of his church in the shape of a neat folder, a copy of which we acknowledge with thanks. The pastor in his introductory says:

"Dear Brethren and Friends: Permit me on this New Year's day to send you my hearty New Year's greeting. May 1907 be the best year you have known. You can make it so. By patience, industry, by self-denial, by loving service you may fill the New Year with fruitage and blessedness. God opens for you on this first day of January a new clean page. There are large possibilities of usefulness and of progress before you. Make the most of them. Meet the New Year with new consecration, new courage, new victories. For the sympathies, the courtesis and the kindnesses I have received from you, I render you hearty thanks. And now please let me know how I can help you. That is what I am here for."

A Motor Cycle Record.

F. Marzo on Saturday last made a round trip from this place to Petaluma, via Santa Rosa and Sebastopol, on a motor cycle. He left here at 9:30 in the morning for Santa Rosa, a distance of twenty-two miles, which was made in 56 minutes. From Santa Rosa he rode to Sebastopol in 27 minutes. From the latter place to Petaluma he covered the distance in 60 minutes, and from Petaluma to Sonoma the run was made in 40 minutes. The entire distance covered was 62 miles and was made in 3 hours and 3 minutes. The roads were in a very muddy condition, else young Marzo claims the entire distance could have been made in much less time. The motor cycle used belongs to James Modini and has a short distance record of a mile a minute.

CALLED TOO LATE.

An Incident That Is Full of Human Interest.

"Shall we call?" That is a question so frequently asked and so constantly discussed that the following extract from a letter recently written from a small town may be of interest. It tells its own story and teaches its own lesson, says the New York Tribune:

It was a short romance, a passing summer episode, but my eyes fill with tears whenever I remember it. They looked like children, he and she, when they moved into the forlorn little house on the roadside in our village. "Just married, of course," said the gossips. "Shall we call? Better wait perhaps till we know who they are and what his business is," etc. So no one disturbed them. The young husband went to town early every morning, and the little wife sat alone on the porch and awaited his return. They planted morning glories and nasturtiums and hung a bird cage among the vines, so the place blossomed into new life and looked as it had never done before. The young people seldom left home. Only on Sundays they walked to the Presbyterian church and sat in a far back pew hand in hand through the service.

One day I saw the doctor's carriage in front of the little porch. "Dear me!" I thought. "I wonder what is the matter there. I must surely look in tomorrow." And I did. But, alas, a grim visitor, who will not be denied, had been before me.

As no one responded to my knock, I opened the front door and found my way to the sitting room. In an instant I knew what had happened. There sat the poor boy alone, his face buried in his hands, while his whole frame shook with dry, tearless sobs. I put my hand upon his shoulder—he was younger than my own son—and I whispered:

"Oh, let me help you if I can."

"Oh," he groaned, "if you had only come before! She was so lonely. She longed so for a woman's hand and a woman's voice. Yes," he added, "you can help me. Tear down the flowers when I am gone. They were hers. And give away her bird. I shall never see this place again after today."

The sorrowful departure took place that very afternoon, and I did as he requested. I never pass the bare porch of that house without remembering that I had practically denied the kindness and the sympathy so sorely needed and craved by one of my sisters.

Those Haunting Notes.

There was a peculiar sound from the direction of the woods as the member of the Bird Lovers' society sat in the window of her friend's country home one summer afternoon.

She quickly took her small "Bird Guide" from her ever present bag and rapidly turned the leaves. At last she paused with a smile of satisfaction and listened, with her finger between two leaves of the little book, till the sound came again.

When it was repeated an expression of doubt flitted across her features, but still she was hopeful.

"You probably know many of the bird notes, living so near the woods and in such a quiet spot," she said to her friend. "Can you tell me what bird that is?"

"That," said her friend briefly, "is our goat. We shall have to move him farther off."—Youth's Companion.

A Well Dressed Ham.

Lord Russell when practicing at the bar one day examined a witness whose evidence promised to be damaging unless he could be previously confused. The only vulnerable part of the man was said to be his self esteem. The witness, a portly, overdressed individual, went into the box, and the great lawyer took him in hand.

"Mr. John Tomkins, I believe?"

"Yes."

"You are a stockbroker?"

"I ham."

Lord Russell regarded him attentively for a few moments and then said, "And a very well dressed ham you are, sir."

The shout of laughter which followed completely disconcerted Mr Tomkins, and the lawyer's point was gained.—Scottish Nights.

An American, Most Likely.

The "seeing London" automobile rolled out Piccadilly in the direction of Hyde park.

"That, ladies and gents," shouted the guide as they passed an ancient edifice surrounded by a high brick wall—"that is the town house of the Duke of Dea, one of our largest landed proprietors."

The eyes of the beautiful American on the back seat were illumined with sudden interest.

"Who landed him?" she cried.—London Mail.

Rewarded the Rogue.

Von Moltke was an early riser and loved early risers. Once while roaming around his Silesian estate at daybreak he found a peasant woman bearing on her back a sack of potatoes which she had just dug, making a load heavy enough for a mule. "Here's a thaler for you," said the great field marshal. "You see, the early bird catches the worm." Afterward he found out that she was a night thief who had ravaged his fields persistently, but whom his steward had never got up early enough to catch.

Dangers of a Cold and How to Avoid Them.

More fatalities have their origin in or result from a cold than from any other cause. This fact alone should make people more careful as there is no danger whatever from a cold when it is properly treated in the beginning. For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been recognized as the most prompt and effectual medicine in use for this disease. It acts on nature's plan, loosens the cough, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

Yielding to Medical Advice.

"Mabel, the doctor says you drink entirely too much coffee. It is not good for you."

"Why, mamma, it doesn't hurt me a particle, and I like it too well to quit using it. I just couldn't get along without my coffee."

"And Mme. Loockes, the celebrated authority on beauty, says it is ruinous to the complexion."

"Oh, well, if the doctor thinks I ought not to drink it any more I'll drop it, of course."

Why

should your baby suffer? When he is fretful and restless, don't experiment on him and use any old thing your neighbor recommends. Buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, greatest known worm medicine and cure for all children's diseases. It is mild in its action, builds up the system, makes thin, puny babies fat. Mrs. J. C. Smith, Tampa, Fla., write:

"My baby was thin and sickly, could not retain its food and cried all night. I used one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and in a few days baby was laughing happy and well.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Washing Soda a Useful Household Cleanser.

A weak solution of washing soda will revive the color in a dusty carpet. Add a little soda to the water when boiling out enamel saucepans, and it will help to cleanse them. A spoonful of soda added to water in which dishcloths are washed will keep them a good color and sweeten them. One large teaspoonful of salsoda will bleach a kettleful of clothes. Hairbrushes need a weekly cleansing. For this purpose add one tablespoonful of soda to a quart of hot water, dip the bristles, not the back, into this and shake well until perfectly clean. Rinse and stand on edge to dry. When the waste pipe is clogged with grease pour down a gallon of boiling water in which has been dissolved a cupful of soda. Repeat this until all the impurities are removed.—Housekeeper.

Preserving Knives.

A novel method of preserving steel knives and keeping them bright after using occurred to a busy woman, says Boston Traveler. She filled a flowerpot with clean fine sand and set it in her kitchen dish closet. In putting away the scoured steel knives, instead of laying them in a drawer or knife box, she stuck them, blades down, in a pot of sand as she would stick pins in a cushion. The sand kept them so beautifully that unless they were used to cut some acid thing they never needed scouring.

The Grip.

"Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves." No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, or so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy, not one case has been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that has not recovered.

Household Helps.

Mildew stains are easily removed by rubbing with a soft cloth moistened with buttermilk.

Starch made with soapy water prevents the irons from sticking and gives a better gloss to the linen.

A lump of washing soda kept over the sink pipe will neutralize the grease in the water and prevent the pipe clogging.

Starching Linen.

Nothing so detracts from the appearance of good linen as starch. One should be careful to rinse the piece thoroughly in good clean water and then give it plenty of light and air. It should be ironed damp so as to get the fine sheen characteristic of well laundered linens. If linen is ironed dry or nearly so, it gets fuzzy.

Carrie Nation

certainly smashed a hole in the bar rooms of Kansas, but Ballard's Horehound Syrup has smashed all records as a cure for coughs, Bronchitis, Influenza and all Pulmonary diseases. T. C. H., Horton, Kansas, writes: "I have never found a medicine that would cure a cough so quickly as Ballard's Horehound Syrup. I have used it for years."

A Jamaica Lady Speaks Highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mrs. Michael Hart, wife of the superintendent of Cart Service at Kingston, Jamaica, West India Islands, says that she has for some years used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, croup and whooping cough and has found it very beneficial. She has implicit confidence in it and would not be without a bottle of it in her home.

A Little Misunderstanding.

"Sir, your son's performance on the French horn is execrable. It will drive everybody from my house. You told me he was a teacher."

"I did not. I said he was a tooter."

Men are often capable of greater things than they perform. They are sent into the world with bills of credit and seldom draw to their full extent.—Walpole.

$8.50 PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRES ONLY $4.80 PER PAIR
Regular Price $8.50 per pair. To Introduce We Will Sell You a Sample Pair for Only $4.80 (CASH WITH ORDER $4.65)
NAILS, TACKS OR GLASS WON'T LET OUT THE AIR
NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES.
Result of 15 years experience in tire making. No danger from THORNS, CACTUS, PINS, NAILS, TACKS or GLASS. Serious punctures, like intentional knife cuts, can be vulcanized like any other tire.
Two Hundred Thousand pairs now in actual use. Over Seventy-five Thousand pairs sold last year.

Notice the thick rubber tread "A" and puncture strips "B" and "D," also rim strip "H" to prevent rim cutting. This tire will outlast any other make—SOFT, ELASTIC and EASY RIDING.
DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. That "Holding Back" sensation commonly felt when riding on asphalt or soft roads is overcome by the patent "Basket Weave" tread which prevents all air from being squeezed out between the tire and the road thus overcoming all suction. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C.O.D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.
We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump and two Sampson metal puncture closers on full paid orders (these metal puncture closers to be used in case of intentional knife cuts or heavy gashes). Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination.
We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. Ask your Postmaster, Banker, Express or Freight Agent or the Editor of this paper about us. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a small trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.
COASTER-BRAKES, built-up-wheels, saddles, pedals, parts and repairs, and everything in the bicycle line are sold by us at half the usual prices charged by dealers and repair men. Write for our big SUNDRY catalogue.
DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.
